The coronavirus, COVID-19, has been declared a worldwide pandemic by the World Health Organization and is reported to be extremely contagious with the capacity to transmit from person-to-person through respiratory droplets and/or by contact with contaminated surfaces and objects. The CDC has set recommended guidelines for limiting the transmission of COVID-19, and NCPDP will enforce these guidelines among the attendees and NCPDP staff during the NCPDP 2022 Annual Technology & Business Conference at the Westin Kierland Resort & Spa in Scottsdale, Arizona.

You should NOT attend the NCPDP 2022 Annual Technology & Business Conference, unless you are following all CDC recommended guidelines and have NOT:

- Experienced any of the following symptoms within the last 14 days: cough, shortness of breath or difficulty breathing, congestion or runny nose, fever, chills, body aches for unknown reasons, fatigue, headache, sore throat, nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, or new loss of taste or smell;
- Traveled internationally within the last 14 days;
- Been in close contact (within 6 feet and longer than 10 minutes within 24 hours) with anyone you know who tested positive for or had symptoms (listed above) of COVID-19 during the 2 days before that person was tested or developed symptoms until the time that person was isolated; or
- Been diagnosed with COVID-19, unless you have been medically cleared as non-contagious per CDC and/or local public health guidelines.

Even with precautionary measures taken by NCPDP, attendees and staff, it is not possible to completely prevent the presence of the disease and NCPDP cannot guarantee you will not become exposed to or contract COVID-19 while participating in the NCPDP 2022 Annual Technology & Business Conference.
